Marwah is a Project Co-ordinator for EMDP Society (Extended Medical Degree Programme)

Here are her reflections on the Project she was involved in.

The society aims to help students who are from local colleges with an interest in Medicine.

They run a programme called Inside Med which is a mentoring programme that supports students who want to study Medicine at University. Students on the programme learn some key study skills as well as being given tips on the UKCAT and what the process of applying to Medicine is like.

They have run sessions such as a Doctors Q&A, which allowed the attendees to network with current doctors and source work experience for themselves.

The society also offer a mentor to all the students so they can be helped every step of the way. This is one of the biggest programmes run entirely by students from planning to delivery purely because they believe in helping WP students access universities may have felt out of their reach.

“By doing a WP project you can really give back to the community. It’s so rewarding being able to give something back.”

Marwah.
